Team Member Representation

Experience has shown that FAST programs are more successful if the team is representative of the children and families in the school. Team members should reflect and represent the participating families on race, ethnicity, language, religion, immigrant status, gender, and social characteristics related to social exclusion. While it is difficult to perfectly reflect program participants on all these characteristics, it is important to consider them and work to be as inclusive as possible.

Please choose one:

- The core team members are representative of the sociocultural characteristics of the children and families at this school and in this community.
- Our site would like information and assistance to improve sociocultural representation.

Parent Consent Form

Introduction

You and your family have been invited to participate in FAST®. FAST® is designed to improve family, school, and community relationships. It is entirely your choice to participate in the program. If you do decide to be in FAST®, we would like you to participate in the evaluation of the program. It is also your choice to participate in the evaluation and choosing not to do so does not mean that you cannot participate in the program. This involves completing two surveys. The survey is a set of questions. Your answers will help us to know if the program is doing what it is designed to do.

Description of the Evaluation

You will be asked to complete a survey before the program begins and a survey after the program ends. Some of the questions will ask about you as a parent, and others will ask about your child who is participating in FAST®. The questionnaire takes approximately 15-25 minutes to complete.

If your child is enrolled in an early childhood center or attends elementary school, we will also ask your child's teacher to complete a brief survey about your child. Your signature below gives permission for your child's teacher to complete the survey. We may wish to follow-up with you at a later date to ask you about changes over time. You may give or withdraw your consent to be contacted at any time.

Benefits and Risks

The results of evaluation help identify the best ways improve family, school, and community relationships and to support children for success. The risks of participation are minimal, but may include distress, especially if you find some of the survey questions or discussion topics too personal. Also, there is a risk that private information about you or your family may be inappropriately disclosed. Please remember that you do not have to answer any question(s) you find insensitive.

Confidentiality

Families & Schools Together, Inc. will do everything possible to maintain the confidentiality of your responses. For this reason participating families are assigned a code number. Your name never appears on your completed surveys. All completed paper surveys are sealed by you, your child, your child's teacher, or your support person and are sent directly to Families & Schools Together, Inc. Electronic surveys are sent directly to Families & Schools Together, Inc. The FAST® Team at your site/school does not have access to any completed surveys. Surveys (electronic or paper) will be opened and/or processed by Families & Schools Together, Inc. personnel in Madison, Wisconsin, who do not know you.

SIGN AND RETURN

A master list of code numbers and family names will be kept at Families & Schools Together, Inc. in Wisconsin. This master list will be kept for follow up purposes. The master list allows data to be linked over time. Once the evaluation is complete, you are welcome to see the results in the final report. The results do not identify you, your family, or any other FAST® family. You may ask the FAST® team for a copy, or you may contact Families & Schools Together, Inc. toll free at (888) 629-2481 and ask to speak to the evaluation department.

Taking part in FAST® is completely voluntary. Anyone in your family may participate. Anyone in your family may stop being in FAST® at any time. If you are participating in FAST® Elementary School Level, your child's teacher will be told about the FAST® program. Services you may receive from the school or any other agency will not be affected whether or not you participate in FAST®.

If you have any questions about the program evaluation, you may contact the Families & Schools Together, Inc. Evaluation Department toll free at (888) 629-2481 or by email at answers@familiesandschools.org.

Authorization

My signature indicates that I have read this consent form. All my questions about evaluation have been answered. I freely and voluntarily choose to participate, along with my child. I understand that mine and my child's rights and privacy will be maintained. I understand that I may withdraw at any time. I understand that my name and address will be kept for follow-up purposes only, if I choose to provide that information.
